WHAT PEOPLE ARE SAYING

- "I learned about historical traumas that have impacted communities of color and how they connect to breastfeeding."
- "We need to understand the traumas that have affected both the Black and Indigenous communities and the affects it has had on birth outcomes, breastfeeding rates, and ways to hopefully make policy change."
- "This is valuable information. More people need to know these things."
- "We have to be aware of occurrences in the past in order to better understand how that affects the birth and breastfeeding journey for Black and Indigenous communities so we can better serve them!"
