WHAT PEOPLE ARE SAYING

"Now I'm more aware of the historical unbelievable traumas that Indigenous families faced and how that trauma affects mortality today and current breastfeeding rates. I would like to see what resources for breastfeeding support are available outside of my immediate community since I live near many tribes (Montana) and what resources are available."

"I think as a white person, I am SO incredibly naïve in many of these situations and it is so important for me to learn more to better serve people. I plan to be more cognizant of the needs of my community and act accordingly."
